inspired by the fingerprints of nature

Panel Product

After selecting your veneers, we will help you further by manufacturing the panel products and or sheet goods (next sheet) the millworker will use to build, finish and install the final product. Doors are included in our production capacity as well.

Why? Simple. Your design intent regarding how you want to see the veneers matched, what you will accept in terms of natural inclusions or character within the wood are communicated to us early in the process. We offer a direct line between production and design. Therefore, the process is seamless.
